OUR POLICY:

To support such measures as are unquestionably for the good of Mason County as an entire community, rather than such propositions as are in favor of the individual interest, or of one section as against another. And likewise to earnestly and consistently oppose all things that are not for the good of the county as a whole.

SHALL WE BE RABBIT HEARTED OR LION HEARTED?

The United States has one-half of the world's coal area, and iron ore and some other minerals apparently proportionately as great. It has nearly one-half of the world's railroad mileage, one-half of the world's coal and iron and steel output, three-fourths or more of the world's sulphur production, two-thirds of the world's cotton, one-third of the world's stock of gold, and one-third of the world's accumulated wealth.

These are typical illustrations of our almost limitless resources and of our material advancement. We have barely scratched the ground in the utilization of our raw materials and our myriad advantages. We have resources sufficient to justify a development of wealth and an output of coal and iron and steel and petroleum and other things far beyond the total of the whole world today.

And yet we have only about six per cent. of the world's population and six per cent. of its land area.

Despite these incalculably great resources and these marvelous advantages, which offer a field of endeavor and profit beyond all the dreams of all the ages, we are at the moment a land of pessimism, of rabbit-hearted men afraid of our shadows. A drink at the fountain of knowledge of these great truths, so briefly presented, should give us the courage which it was once said caused a hitherto timid rabbit to rush field and box the ears of a bulldog.

Where is our courage? Where is the backbone of our bankers and great business leaders? Where is the foresight and power of the administration that all do not unite and throw out of power those who through their unwise acts have caused the Federal Reserve Board to make cowards of the nation that we have become like a lion so changed as to run from a rabbit.

It is time to assert ourselves; time to have a rebirth of faith in ourselves and our country; time to be "a bull on America;" time to put away the Socialism and Bolshevism and false financial leadership which so long held sway in Washington, and in the language of President Harding slightly changed, say: "By the Eternal, this country shall not die of dry rot, nor shall it be strangled by false financing nor destroyed by radicalism and radical unionism and all the evils which march under the red flag of anarchy and revolution, slackers and inefficiency."

Then let the honest-hearted workers, whether in the factory, on the farm, in the bank or in the office; in the pulpit or in the teacher's chair; at the editor's desk or at the Linotype machine; rich or poor, high or low, have a new birth of righteousness and patriotism, and a new consecration to work as God's appointed way to man's advance here and hereafter. He who spoke as never man spake said: "My Father worketh hitherto and I work." Who will follow in the same spirit? — Manufacturers' Record.

STILL FUSSING OVER WOMEN'S FASHIONS.

If she skimps her dress they say she is immodest and if she doesn't they say she is extravagant. With half the country railing at woman because of the scantiness of her skirts 'neverything, here comes the reverse school of reform declaring that she is wasting much substance on the adornment of herself by the purchase of too many clothes composed of too much fabric in constant following of silly changes in style. This, too, in face of the well-established fact that a woman dead is much happier than a woman out of style. However, she is not without defenders.

Says one of these: "For every American woman who is extravagant there are ten thousand who watch closely the cost of their wardrobe." Then to make it stronger and even up many scores of mere man's interference in feminine fashions there is added this one for masculine consumption: "Men invariably purchase clothing without concern as to the cost, while women are natural bargain hunters and get twice as much for their money as do the men."

Anyhow, women are entitled to adornment. Some of them really need it and it doesn't hurt the others. It is a man's place to write checks in payment of woman's dress bills, not write criticisms in endeavor to check her dress buying. He but adds his wastage of time to her wastage of money. Which is very uneconomical economy.

A few more scratches are due before the big August Derby is run.

ADVISES BANKS TO ADVERTISE
Newspapers One of Best Mediums in Securing Savings Accounts, Says Woman Manager.

Atlanta, Ga. — Newspaper advertising enables the banker to reach more people during their leisure hours, at a smaller cost per person, than any other means, and is one of the best ways to get savings amounts," asserted Miss Minnie A. Buzbee, manager of advertising for the American Bank of Commerce and Trust Company, of Little Rock — an institution that has been uncommonly successful in building business through advertising — in addressing the financial section of the convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World, in session here.

The financial advertising section has been uncommonly well attended and the sessions tremendously interesting, indicating a decidedly rapid growth of interest, on the part of the banks, in constructive advertising methods.

Mrs. Buzbee advocated going after new business, of course, but said that many banks are overlooking the opportunity to do a greater business with present customers. She held that the lack of intensive methods on the part of legitimate financial institutions was one of the reasons for the success of Blue Sky promoters. People need to be educated as to investments of the safe kind, she said.

New York — The Chinese are undoubtedly more philosophical about their view of crime than we. They divide the guilt around in complex ways. Ah Foon, reputed to be the wealthiest man in New York's Chinatown goes clothed in much splendor of rich raiment and precious jewels. The other night a holdup man couldn't resist that splendor and Ah Foon was hit over the head and robbed. The guilty man was caught and convicted; but his defense was that Ah Foon was to blame for displaying his wealth so lavishly as to attract robbery.

JOY BROUGHT INTO HOME

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, Restoring Mrs. Benz to Health

Altoona, Pa.—"I am writing to tell you what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. We have had six children die almost at birth. From one hour to nineteen days all they have lived. As I was going to have another, I took a dozen bottles of your Vegetable Compound and I can say that it is the greatest medicine on earth, for this baby is now four months old and a healthier baby you would not want. I am sending you a picture of her. Everybody says, 'That is some healthy looking baby.' You have my consent to show this letter."—Mrs. C. W. BENZ, 131 3rd Ave., Altoona, Pa.

No woman can realize the joy and happiness this healthy babe brought into the home of Mrs. Benz, unless they have had a like experience. Every woman who suffers from any ailment peculiar to her sex, as indicated by backaches, headaches, bearing-down pains, irregularities, nervousness and "the blues" should not rest until they have given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.

ducing companies continue to present themselves. One of these producers who is starting out in a particularly ambitious manner is W. K. Ziegfeld. "The Black Panther," his first picture, has just had its first showing and it sets a standard to be maintained. With Florence Reed, Norman Trevor, Brandon, Tynon, Miffo, Dazie and half a dozen others of established reputations in the east, it could hardly have been uninteresting, even without its thrilling plot and good direction.

An annual theater week, patterned after the Stratford-on-Avon festival, while attracting thousands of theater lovers to England each spring, is being planned for New York by the Actors' Equity Association. The first festival will be held in June of next year if all goes well. The Equity Association will produce the best plays of every country and age during the week, more than 1000 actors and actresses taking part in the eight performances. One program will cover the cycle from the Greek to the Elizabethan drama. Each performance will have its own director, its own staff and its own cast.

LUCY JENNE PRICE.

Uncle Ted's Bed-Time Stories. Bringing Profiteers To Justice.

"If they aren't wore they are just as bad. I think the fellows who got rich because they didn't play fair with the government during the war are worse than the fellows who tried to get out of fighting." It was Jack talking on his side of an argument in which he was rapidly swimming over one of his chums, Johnny Jones.

"But, Jack," said Johnny, "the fellows who wouldn't fight ought to have been sent to jail. Suppose every fellow had said he wouldn't fight?"

"Well, where have you been?" asked Jack. "Don't you know that lots and lots of fellows who wouldn't fight were sent to jail? I know Uncle Ted told us that they were treated pretty nice by former Secretary of War Baker, but they were sent to jail and that's more than you can say for the war grafters."

"You're right, Jack," interjected Uncle Ted who had just arrived on the scene. "About the only punishment the war profiteers have received has been to pay an income tax on the great amount of money they made out of the war. And, of course everyone has to pay an income tax, so that doesn't mean anything. I think the meanest type of man on earth was the man who used the requirements of the great war to cheat the government and the people. Instead of giving, fighting, and helping to the limit when the country needed help as it never had needed it before, these men actually made it harder to win the war, and at the same time kept rolling the money into their own pockets.

"I can't help but remember just one little thing from the war that was the result of profiteering. You know it rained and rained and rained in France and if the doughboys needed anything they needed protection from the rain. But you should have seen some of the raincoats made after the war started and issued to the men in France. They hardly reached their knees and were nearly as thin as tissue paper. Somebody must have made a nice pile of money on that."

"But, kiddies, I feel better today about this stink than I have for a long time because the time is coming very soon when these men will be brought to task for their actions. Ever since the war there has been a lot of talk about going after these war grafters. The late attorney general, Mr. Palmer, did a lot of talking but stopped there, too. However, Mr. Palmer and his associates not count for anything now and I know that for a long time some earnest quiet work has been going on in preparation for the work of bringing these men to task and making them square things with the government and the people.

"Attorney General Daugherty, head of the Department of Justice, is going to see that justice is done. He is going to conduct a tea party. It is going to be real business and he is going to the limit in making the war grafters square things. It seems that for some time he has had an investigation made of the various kinds of contracts for war supplies and they have found such a tremendous number of grafting cases that a special bureau must be established to handle the job. The big fellows are the ones who will bring to justice."

"I heard that there were hundreds of millions of dollars paid out of the Treasury that were not fair profits," said Jack.

"Yes, Jack, I guess it was so much that it is hard to realize, but if Attorney General Daugherty succeeds, and I think he will, that money will be returned to the government. In his statement on this subject made after a conference with President Harding, Mr. Daugherty said something about the draft dodgers. I'll read it to you:

"How are we going to justify the action of the government in sending men to jail for trying to render the draft law ineffective, when we are letting certain kinds of men go free, after they have ruined the government and the people of unimaginable sums?"

"If these men think the present administration is going to stand for what they did, they have another think coming. It is going to take a lot of hard work to bring about justice in this matter, but Mr. Daugherty is bringing big men to help him. In fact right now Mr. Daugherty is trying to find big men to take charge of this work. In his work of organizing the special bureau to prosecute these cases, Mr. Daugherty will have the aid of Col. William Hayward, Federal district attorney of New York, who will have charge of all cases that will come up in New York."

"How about the business men who took fair profits and even gave the government supplies at a loss?" asked Jack. "I hope they will give those men credit."

"Don't worry about that, Jack. Mr. Daugherty is well aware that there were hundreds of patriotic American business men whose wits thought was for America and packing up the fighting forces, and whose last thoughts were of their pocket books. He will see that those men are protected. Listen to what he says about that:

"Business men who served their government faithfully and took only fair profits to which they were entitled have nothing to fear now. The many thousands of men in this class need not be uneasy that charges that may be found later to be false, will be used against them."

"I'm mighty glad these grafters are going to get it," said Jack.

"So am I," said Ruth.

"Yes, children, it is the only fair and square thing and Mr. Daugherty is to be congratulated on his efforts and splendid plans to work it out."

MONDELL DEFENDS HOUSE.

Washington, W. C.—Representative Frank W. Mondell of Wyoming, majority leader in the House, resents the carefully cultivated Democratic attempt to spread the idea that the Republican Congress is not speeding enough. He says:

"We were a few days late in getting started, owing to the fact that the authority did not have their committee places filled. Since that time by unanimous consent we have several times adjourned over Saturday. And may I suggest to the gentlemen from Texas and to the other gentlemen on that side that if that is held to be killing time I shall not hereafter prefer any request for unanimous consent to adjourn over Saturday? Notwithstanding these adjournments, for which they have pleaded, we have worked more continuously and diligently and have passed more good legislation through the House in this session of Congress than in any like period during the twenty-five years I have been in Congress, and no one can deny that fact. We are progressing in a businesslike way and no disposing of many very important and pressing questions."

CONVICTS TREATED LIKE HONORED GUESTS," MAXEY.

Newport, Ky.—In a statement bitterly criticizing methods of conducting the Kentucky State Reformatory as being of "milk and water, Sunday school character," Joseph Maxey announced he has tendered his resignation as assistant superintendent. Maxey denounced the policy of the new superintendent, Henry V. Bastin, who, he said, treated the prisoners as "honor guests of the institution."

$25,000 FIRE AT WARFIELD, KY.

Warfield, Ky., June 22.—Fire believed to have originated from a cigarette carelessly thrown in a trash destroyed the new More hotel, with a loss of $18,000; the L. Booth residence, loss, $3,000, and the H. Hawes building, loss $3,000.

The flames, originating on the second floor of the hotel, which had not been occupied, were discovered at 3 a.m.

Pistol shots sounded the alarm and the entire town turned out to fight the fire.

That numerous other buildings were not consumed was due to heroic work by bucket brigades.

Especial praise is being given a crew of Spaniards employed in railroad construction who formed a living chain passing water in buckets from Tug River.

$75,000 DAMAGE SUIT IN LEXINGTON IS DISMISSED.

Lexington, Ky., June 23.—The suit brought by Mrs. Kathryn Arnold against the Phoenix Hotel for $75,000 damages, in which she declares she was insulted and struck by Paul Hale, a former Frankfort boy, while she was on the mezzanine of the hotel, was dismissed Wednesday by Federal District Judge A. M. J. Cochran, following the submission of all testimony. The case was not permitted to go to the jury. Judge Cochran declared the Federal Court did not have jurisdiction. This claim, advanced by the defense, was based on the fact that Mrs. Arnold, before coming to Lexington, had lived in three cities in Texas, then in Tennessee and finally in Kentucky and is at the present time living in Tulsa, Okla.

A total of 58 teachers and prospective teachers are now enrolled in the Mason County Normal School.

USE IT DON'T LOSE IT.

When it comes to spelling, there is mighty little difference between "Using your head" and "Losing your head." But when it comes to personal finance, there is all the difference between prosperity and disaster. Some lose their heads in prosperity and some in times of disaster. One is equally fatal with the other. Every able bodied American can make money but every American does not have money because he loses his head instead of using it.

The only sound principle of personal finance is to use both your head and your money and to lose neither. You work for your money but your money will work far more effectively for you through investment if you use your head.

There are many ways in which you may use your head and still lose your money. But there is one sure way of using your head which will render your money absolutely safe and at the same time put it to profitable use. That way is to set aside each week a certain amount of what you earn and put it into Government Savings Securities, Treasury Savings Stamps and Treasury Savings Certificates. They are both safe and profitable. Their possession will in most cases keep you from losing your head and your money either in times of prosperity or adversity.

Use it don't lose it.

BODY OF SPANIARD IS FOUND IN OHIO RIVER.

Cincinnati, June 23.—The body of Frederico Cunarte Castillo, a Spaniard 41 years old, was found floating in the Ohio River at the foot of Locust street, Ludlow, Wednesday, by Charles Verger, fisherman.

His name was ascertained from a passport found in his coat pocket which shows that he had arrived in Havana from Spain May 5, 1920, and at Key West, April 1.

Mr. David W. Stephens, Kenton county Coroner, said the body had been in the water about five days.

Lexington, Ky., June 23.—Thirty young people out of the 150 who attended the eight-day session of the Disciples Leadership Training school and Young People's Conference of the Christian church at Hamilton college today announced their intention of taking up some branch of church work as a life activity.

Among those in attendance at the conference were, John Mullin and Katherine Hughes, Maysville, and Ruth Sparks, Maysville.

PRISONERS ESCAPE FROM CLEVELAND JAIL.

Cleveland, June 23.—Police were scouring the city today for Robert Hunt, James Wnsh and Charles Gallagher, who escaped from county jail early today after holding up three night jailers with revolvers.

BUY YOUR COAL DIRECT FROM MINE—BIG SAVING.

The high cost of coal is a thing of the past! At least, there are no complaints on this account—since the removal of government restrictions among those who have learned how to buy coal. The way to buy coal is to get it direct from the mines. This saves several middlemen's profits. It saves hauling expenses. Anyone can buy coal at mine prices, whether a coal buyer or one who used only ten or fifteen tons a year. This has been made possible through a plan evolved by a large and old-established concern, THE BERNICE COAL COMPANY, with main offices at 490 Como Building, Chicago.

This company has thousands of customers in various sections of the United States who receive all of their coal direct from the mines. These customers are pleased not only because of the many dollars they save every year, but also because of the quality of coal they are getting. Many write that they never before had coal that makes so little dust, that burns so well, leaving so few ashes. If you are a coal user—whether you use hard or soft coal, much or little—it will be greatly to your advantage to write the Bernice Coal Co. at once for prices, stating kind and quantity of coal you use.

Mr. Dreese gave the above statement February 6, 1908, and on November 22, 1920, he added: "I think just as highly of Doan's Kidney Pills today as I did when I gave my former recommendation many years ago. My cure has been a lasting one."

Price 60 cents, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Dreese had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mrs. Buffalo, N. Y.
